VTE prophylaxis: Key components of a hospital-wide policy

Venous Thromboembolism (VTE) is one of the most common preventable causes of complications in hospitalized patients. This webinar will provide strategies for developing a hospital-wide VTE prophylaxis policy and will help healthcare organizations prepare for the new Accreditation Canada Required Organizational Practice (ROP) for VTE (effective 2011).

At the end of this learning session, the participants will be able to understand the importance of VTE prophylaxis in hospitalized patients, identify which patients are at risk for VTE and know what a hospital-wide thromboprophylaxis policy should include.
