Work interruptions during medication administration: How risky are they?

ISMP Canada is very pleased to have Dr. Alain Biron discuss the relationship between work interruptions and medication errors.

This one hour webinar will provide an overview of the recent research evidence on predictors of medication administration errors, with a particular focus on work interruptions. The results of a recent study completed by Dr. Biron and colleagues will be presented. The possible implications of the study findings as they related to nurses' work environment will be discussed.
